Bordeaux Montaigne University's International Summer School offers an exciting opportunity for students to attend two weeks courses in a French university while discovering the beautiful city of Bordeaux and its surroundings.

This short-term program mixes English-taught academic courses on linguistics, French culture and history, geography, cinema and humanities, with French language courses for all levels.

A field trip, several cultural and social activities such as a wine tasting or culinary class, an intercultural workshop, visits to museums, activities with local students and a sport session will complete this intensive program.
